When the hands of the clock meet at noon today every net on the Columbia river will be pulled in, and the fishing season for 1906 will be at an end.

Since the 25th of April, when the opening of the season was first signalized by the swish of nets over the sides of 3000 boats, the broad expanse of the lower Columbia has been covered with the white sails of all manner of craft, and everything has taken on an appearance of activity.

Though the season has been marked by no sudden increase in the influx of fish, the run has been on the whole quite satisfactory, averaging well each day, and the receipts of the canneries and cold storage plants, are fully equal to those of former years in the number of cases packed, though the pickled and frozen product is below the standard.

Pack for the Season.

Reports of the pack for the season of 1906 on the Columbia river, as obtained by the Morning Astorian from the various canneries and cold storage plants individually, show that the total amount of canned salmon put up will reach 246,500 cases, which is about equal to the usual average. It may be said that a large number of salmon are put up in half-pound cans of four dozen to a case, which taken by the usual method of computation, would make the total pack much in excess of what it ought to be as compared with the packs of other years. For this reason the foregoing estimate of the pack is reduced to cases of four dozen cans of one pound each, or full cases.

The pack of canned salmon as segregated among the different packing companies on the river is as follows:

- Columbia River Packers' Association, 80,000 cases.
- Union Fishermen's Co-Operative Packing Co., 29,000 cases.
- Tallant-Grant Packing Co., 14,000 cases.
- Sanborn-Cutting Packing Co., 20,500
 cases.
- A. Booth & Co., 18,000 cases.
- P. J. McGowan & Sons, Ilwaco and Cascades, 19,000 cases.
- Warren Packing Co., Cathlamet and Cascades, 18,000 cases.
- Pillar Rock Packing Co., 11,000 cases.
- J. G. Megler & Sons, 6000 cases.
- Seaborg Packing Co., 5000 cases.
- Seufert Bros., 12,000 cases.
- Altoona Packing Co., 14,000 cases.

Quality of Fish Good.

The quality of the fish packed has been exceptionally good this season.
 This is due in a great measure to the fact that at no time were there any long continued runs, and the fish which entered the river were quickly disposed of by the canneries. The run was not so great that the fish remained too long in fresh water before being caught, and thus there was no deterioration in the quality.

Gillnetters on the river all experienced their usual success, and the majority came out with a comfortable margin to show for their summer's labors. On the other hand the seiners and trappers did very poorly, especially the seiners at Ilwaco, where the season is a practical failure. The Chinook seiners are reported to have succeeded somewhat better than those at Ilwaco, though the season was very discouraging as a whole, to operators of this class of gear.
 A number of fishermen who used purse seines, fared exceedingly well, and next year will undoubtedly see a great increase in this kind of apparatus. Trap-men nowhere on the river enjoyed any luck, and are out of pocket on the summer's work.

Pickled Salmon Behind.

The amount of pickled salmon will fall from 30 to 40 per cent behind that of last year. The total pack of this class of goods is 6925 tierces divided as follows: Columbia River Packers' Association, 1500 tierces; Union Fishermen's Co-Operative Packing Co., 1275 tierces; Tallant-Grant Packing Co., 450 tierces; Sanborn-Cutting Packing Co., 550 tierces; Vendsysel Packing Co., 500 tierces; Warren Packing Co., 550 tierces; S. Schmidt & Co., 800 tierces; Kleiven-hausen & Co., 650 tierces; Lindenberger Co., 650 tierces.

Little Frozen Salmon.

The number of salmon frozen during the season is but a third of what it was last year, totaling only 297 tons. The greater part of this amount consisted of steelheads, though the Lindenberg Company froze some Silversides. As usual the Columbia River Packers' Association lead in the amount of fish frozen with 90 tons, with Lindengerber next with 75 tons. The others are as follows: Warren Packing Company, 50 tons; S. Schmidt & Co., 30 tons; Klievenhausen & Co., 27 tons; Vendsysel Packing Co., 25 tons.

One thing for which the season will perhaps be remembered for more than any other is the loss of life. This season probably witnessed more accidents than ever before during the fishing period which is due principally to the fact that the fishermen ventured out nearer the bar, than customary in former years, and were overcome by the waves.

AT THE STAR.

Commencing Monday and continuing through next week, Manager Gervutz has booked the entire company of the Grand theatre of Portland for the Star.
 It is one of the largest and most complete number of vaudeville performers ever seen in Astoria, and will no doubt be appreciated by the amusing loving public. Every number on the mammoth program is a world beater, and eclipses anything of the kind ever presented to an Astoria audience. In order to accommodate all who desire to attend, two shows will be given nightly, and a matinee every afternoon. The program is published in this issue and speaks for itself. The enterprise and desire of Mr.
 Gervutz to please his patrons will no doubt be appreciated and the Star theatre will be crowded at each entertainment.

ARE YOU A BON VIVANT?

The pith of life, after all, is a good feed. The good things of this life are not as a rule easily found, so that it is a pleasure to find so close at hand a first-class up-to-date establishment, where one gets those good things at every meal, like the Palace Restaurant, on Commercial street. The home of the bon vivant.

ATTEMPTED MURDER
 THIS MORNING

ERIC JOHNSON ATTACKED BY THREE UNKNOWN THUGS AND HEAD CHOPPED OPEN WITH A HATCHET—MAY PROVE FATAL.

At 1 o'clock this morning three unknown men set upon and almost killed a young man by the name of Eric Johnson living at Hanthorn's rooms, near the Hanthorn cannery. As near as could be ascertained Johnson had partially undressed, when he had occasion to leave his room for a moment. As he stepped out into the street, three men jumped at him.
 After a brief struggle he was suddenly struck over the head with a hatchet in the hands of one of the trio. Johnson immediately fell senseless, the blood gushing from a gaping wound. The noise of the struggle had aroused the inmates of the rooming-house and they came to the man's assistance. The would-be murderers seeing that they were discovered fled, and escaped into the night.

Dr. J. A. Fulton was called and attended the wounded man. He states that he cannot say at this time whether the man will live or not. What the object of the attack was is not known, as Johnson was unable of course to explain.
